

Puerto Vallarta Fishing

Puerto Vallarta has been the host of the famous International Fishing Tournament for more that 28 years.

This tournament takes place during the month of November every year, because of the slippery Marlin migration. This annual competition has become one of the most recognized in the world.

In Bahia de Banderas, you will have the opportunity to enjoy the emotion of arduous battles against several species of other fish, like the spectacular sailfish or the speedy sawfish. There are special tours recommended for people with a tight budget. For deep sea fishing there are tours to places such as: the Marietas Islands, El Morro, El Faro, Corbetana and the Banks. This last one is recommended for overnights and experienced fishermen.

From June to February the great amounts of yellow fin tuna are within the reach of the hand; this is an opportunity you won'tt want to miss.
